Austria after Annexing Territory—Affairs at Constantinople Looking less Dangerous.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, May 28.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times states that Austria has yet received an invitation to the Congress.

Count Dr. Hahn, the Austrian ambassador at Rome, is mentioned as the second plenipotentiary to accompany Count Andrassy. Doubtless there are still points requiring settlement. What has been already attained is merely the basis for a more detailed discussion.

Washington Notes.

The Post, in a leading editorial says, a distinct understanding being brought about with Russia, Lord Salisbury will doubtless be the English, and Count Schouvaloff, probably, the Russian plenipotentiary, in the Congress.

The Times' Vienna despatch reports that Austria has notified the Powers if Ada Kaled ceases to be Turkish, it can only become Austrian.

BUCAREST, May 28.—The Austrians have occupied the Northern entrance of Predeal, a pass of the Carpathian mountains.

ALEXANDRIA, May 28.—The entire Indian expedition, except one small craft, has now arrived here.

PESTE, May 28.—A disturbance occurred to-day in Belgrade. The crowd pelted Prince Milans palace, and cheered for Karageorgievitch.

LONDON, May 28.—A Constantinople telegram, received in Paris, says the Porte has received an invitation, but the Reuters despatch, from Constantinople, denies the report.

The Times has begun to urge the establishment of a British protectorate over the key of Asia.

Affairs at Constantinople begin to look less dangerous. The advance of Russian cavalry to Pirinji, which the Turks understood to be an attempt to seize Pirros with a view to commanding the road to Karah, was disavowed by Gen. Todtben. General Skoboleff, who ordered the occupation, is said to have exceeded his authority and to have committed an indiscretion. The Russians have withdrawn from Pirinji. General Todtben said he would be exceedingly careful to prevent anything at this moment which would cause suspicion or create irritation. The withdrawal from Pirinji, and the news from the European capitals have so relieved the previous tension that little fear is entertained of an accidental collision. Both the Russian and Turkish officers are indulging in pleasure excursions.

The work on the fortifications has been greatly relaxed.

Invitations to the Congress are issued by Germany. They state in effect that the Congress will meet in Berlin to discuss the treaty of San Stefano. Correspondents at Paris and Vienna say the good offices of Prince Bismarck have been largely instrumental in bringing about the result without humiliation to Russia or risk to England.

BERLIN, May 28.—The reports that invitations to the Congress have already been despatched to the powers, are unfounded.

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—SENATE. McPherson of New Jersey, submitted a resolution declaring that it is unwise and inexpedient for Congress, at the present session, to change the existing rate of tax on manufactured tobacco. He asked for the present consideration of the resolution, but objection was made by Withers, of Virginia, and it was laid over.

Hamlin, of Maine, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a bill providing for the payment of the award, made by the Fishery Commission at Halifax, under the treaty of Washington. Placed on the calendar.

The House bill, as amended by the Senate, allowing articles for art and scientific objects to come duty free passed, and goes to the President.

The House is voting on the army bill. All amendments providing for $25,000 men were voted down, and the provision for 20,000 ordered.

The Finance Committee of the Senate agreed to report favorably on the House bill, making certain mint officers assistant Treasurers of the United States.

The committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate agreed to report favorably on the bill appropriating five and a half millions of gold to pay the fishery award to Great Britain, if after correspondence, His Excellency deems it his duty to pay the amount awarded to her British majesty without further communication with Congress.

No Scotch nomination to-day.

House.—The money appropriation bill was passed by the House. It fixes the strength of the army at 20,000 men.

The number of cavalry regiments at eight, and of infantry at eighteen. It provides for the reduction and reorganization of the various staff departments, and for the retiring and mustering out of officers who are supernumerary, or unfit for service; reduces the pay and emoluments of officers; provides for the removal of the Indians by the War Department, and prohibits the employment of troops for civil purposes, unless specially authorized by act of Congress.

The Senate amendments to the bill for the repair of the bankrupt law were concurred in.

Waddell, from the Postoffice committee, reported favorably on the bill for a postal savings depository. Referred to committee of the whole. Also favorably on the bill providing for an ocean mail steamship line between the United States and Brazil. Referred to committee of the whole.

SENATE.—The amendments by the House to the District bill were now concurred in Committee Conference ordered.

The Senate passed without amendment, the House bill for the retirement of the legal tender. The following is the text of the bill, to forbid the further retirement of United States legal tender notes: "Be it enacted, Vice President, Treasurer, and three managers of the People's Savings Institution, now in the hands of a receiver, were indicted for conspiracy to defraud the depositors and held in $3,000 bail.

NEWARK, N. J., May 28.—The President, Vice President, Treasurer, and three managers of the People's Savings Institution, now in the hands of a receiver, were indicted for conspiracy to defraud the depositors and held in $3,000 bail.

WILMINGTON, May 27, 1878.

In reply to my denial of the statement of Mr. Knott, that I had testified in the News to the fact that I had been a member of a committee appointed by the bankrupt to represent the interests of the port, I now desire to make known that I was a member of a committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to go to Washington in the interest of Col. Waddell in the matter of the river and harbor improvements, and that I had expressed myself as satisfied that Waddell was doing a good work, this correspondent "Cape Fear" gives F. W. Kerchner as his authority for the allegation. I dislike to be forced into a newspaper controversy and am unable to see why so much importance should be attached to my opinion of Mr. Waddell but as the issue is made by the press, I will not say more.

Resolved, That we approve the course of our present Senator, Capt. J. L. Robinson, in the last session of our Legislature and hereby pledge him our united support for re-election.

Resolved, That the proceeding of this meeting be published in Citizen, Raleigh News and Courier.

On motion, meeting adjourned.

TAXING THE DRUMMERS.

The Proposition to Tax Commercial Travellers Five Hundred Dollars.

Views of the Raleigh Merchants.

We continue this morning the publication of the views of the merchants of this city respecting the proposed prohibition tax of five hundred dollars on commercial travellers, known the world over as drummers.

QUESTION.

Are you in favor of or against the proposition for the State to tax drummers for the sum of $500, so as to prohibit them from doing business in the State and what are your views on the subject?

ANSWERS.

J. C. Palmer, jeweler: is in favor of the tax of $500 being imposed on drummers for the reason that they come on here and not only to the wholesale trade, but also to consume.

J. D. Newson, dry goods: I am not in favor of a tax of $500; I think we might even take off the tax of $50, and let the drummers come free. They are convenient to me; I can often buy by sample better than I can by order.

J. C. Brewster, hardware: I would like to discriminate; I do not think a retail drummer should be allowed to come here.

Gattin Jones and Ellis, millers and wholesale grain and feed dealers: it is dangerous to our business, but we are not willing to say what tax should be imposed.

Williams and Upchurch, wholesale grocers and commission merchants: are indifferent.

H. L. Fendt, confectioner: I am not in favor of the tax, because I can buy sample just as well as if I were to go North.

Honor to Whom Honor is Due.

Wytheville Dispatch.

Eight years ago there worked as "devil" in this office a young man apparently eighteen years of age. He came friendless, shoeless, "brickeless," moneyless. He plied steadily on at the trade he had adopted—always sober industrious. He spent his leisure hours poring over books, and steadily climbing the "bright" taper.

Communication and writing was good, and he soon came prominently through the post office to us, and though contrary to our rule, we published them. That boy left without money as he came, but with an abundance of mother-wit sense. Some years have passed by since then, and would you ask who is the boy and what has become of him?

He has just sailed for Europe, having been commissioned by Governor Colquitt as chief Commissioner to the Paris Exposition from the State of Georgia; is editor-in-chief of the Atlanta Constitution, and has attained high distinction as a humorist. His name is Samuel W. Small.

The nom de plume under which he has written so much and attained such rank is a humorously written "I. B. GRAINGER."

DEAR SIR.—As it becomes necessary for me to defend myself from statements made by an anonymous writer in Raleigh News, please be kind enough to reply to the following questions, and very much oblige.

Congress, it is believed, will adjourn about the 25th of June.

We regret to hear of the continued illness of Lt. Gov. Jarvis.

It is painful to read of the stoppage of so many mills in New England. Twelve thousand looms are idle, and four thousand operatives thrown out of employment.

BISHOP HAVEN has declared, in a sermon, for the nomination of Grant in 1880. It is hard to tell whether Grant or the devil has the upper hand in this religious malignant's mind.

INTELLIGENCE from across the water continues of a pacific character. Russia is weakening, and a more conciliatory spirit reigns at St. Petersburg. At the same time, the Powers on the verge of war continue their preparations for a fight.

TELEGRAPHIC communication between Elizabeth City and the outer world was opened yesterday. The Economist, edited by the talented Creely, sent us greeting last night. This improvement will be of great value to the Albemarle region.

The bill to repeal the bankrupt law, as amended by the Senate, passed the House yesterday, and goes to the President for his signature. The repeal takes effect January 1st 1879. The postponement of the day for the bill to go into effect is due mainly to the efforts of the North Carolina delegation.

The convention of the 8th Judicial District meets to-day, at Hickory. It will be a largely attended and animated convention. The contestants for the honors of the judgeship are Messrs. M. L. McCorkle, of Catawba, A. C. Avery, of Burke, and G. N. Folk, of Caldwell.

The chances appear to be in favor of the second named gentleman. Either one of the three would make a good judge.

Mr. W. C. Troy has withdrawn from the Congressional contest in the third District in favor of Hon. A. M. Waddell. This, it is understood, gives Cumberland and Moore solid for Waddell. Harnett has already declared for him. The withdrawal of Maj. Stearns gave him New Hanover, and perhaps other counties, solid. His renomination and re-election may now be considered very well assured.

In our issue of the 26th inst., it was stated that Pitt county had declared her preference for Congress for Mr. Yeates. We are reliably informed that this statement is erroneous. No convention to appoint delegates to the Congressional Convention has been held, and will not until the 22d of June. Consequently no occasion has arisen for Pitt county to declare for any one. Our informant asserts that Pitt is for Latham.

One of the correspondents of the News has interviewed every merchant of note in the town of Durham, and writes that they are unanimous in the opinion that the proposed five hundred dollar tax on drummers would be an intolerable hardship upon the merchants and an outrage upon the drummers. Such unanimity of sentiment, touching one thing, has rarely been seen. So Durham may be put down as squarely opposed to an increase of the tax. Free trade, and a plenty of it, is the sentiment there.

THE N. Y. Journal of Commerce says Mr. Hewitt, in his remarks on the Army Appropriation bill, highly praised the militia of the country. He would trust it to put down railroad riots and all communistic uprisings. In New York city, the people have no fear of communism, because the militia can be depended on as a sure protection. The National Guardsmen are ready for the rioters on an hour's notice, and that fact being well known will, it is hoped, prevent any occasion arising for calling them out. Whatever Congress can do to encourage the improvement of the militia will be acceptable.

THE REV. DR. JOHN MILLER, who was for several years the Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Petersburg, Va., was some months since tried by his Presbytery, New Brunswick, in New Jersey, for preaching certain heresies and deposed from the ministry. He appealed to the Northern General Assembly which met a few days since at Pittsburgh, Pa., and after a full hearing of his case the Assembly by a vote of 274 against 18 for declined to sustain him a peal. This case has excited great interest in the Northern branch of the Presbyterian Church.

SPAKING of the contest between Hon. W. M. Robbins and Col. R. F. Arndt for the Congressional nomination in the Seventh District, and the effect upon it by the action of the county convention of Iredell county, the Charlotte Observer says: "For some time past it has been thought that Iredell would turn the balance in favor of either aspirant, and hence the struggle in that county. The fact, too, that it is the home of both of them made each more determined to carry it. The vote, however, was not as close as was anticipated. Each township voted according to the number of its magistrates, making the total number of votes 45. Of this number, Arndt received 35 and Robbins 12. If we are not mistaken this makes the fifth county in the district which has declared for Arndt. The others are Ashe, Alleghany, Alexander and Wilkes. It is generally conceded that Watauga will go for Arndt. Forsythe sends its delegates un instructed. Roxan will probably instruct its delegates to vote for Shober first and Robbins second. Davie is uncertain, and may be divided. It is not known what Yadkin and Surry will do, but it is likely that the latter will go for Shober on the first ballot. The odds, therefore, seem to be entirely in favor of Arndt, though the above in reference to the counties which have not voted is only the surmise of those who profess to be familiar with the sentiment of the district, and may be incorrect."

The Man on Horseback.

Present political indications point to nothing more clearly than that General Grant will be the Republican candidate for the Presidency in 1880. It is asserted that in Washington this belief prevails universally. In fact, it is not doubted. Coupling the Camerons and the Chandlers—the masters of the National Republican party to-day—it is well known, are openly and avowedly in favor of the nomination of the wandering Ulysses for a third term. Indeed, he is, above all men, the individual to whom nearly all Republicans are looking as their political Moses, to lead them out of the wilderness of defeat and distraction in which they now find themselves.

We are not surprised at this; there are many reasons why the republicans can make in the great struggle to come two years hence. In the first place the republican party is without a leader. The only man among them capable of heading the organization successfully, after Grant retired, was Oliver P. Morton. Neither Blaine nor Conkling the two aspirants for the leadership seem qualified to hold the reins. The Republicans seem to be unable to unite upon either of them. Hayes is an utter failure as a leader. Grant is the only man who can combine all the elements of the Republican party. He is the only voice whom the factions would obey, and who would inspire confidence in his ability to carry the banner of his party to victory.

The halo of victory surrounds Grant; and everybody knows the truth of the saying that nothing wins like success. Grant's triumph over Lee, his victory in 1868 and that in 1872, have combined to produce the impression deep and strong upon the public mind that he is well nigh invincible. Whether this impression be correct or not is a matter of no consequence, who ever. It is there; that's enough to inspire confidence in the power of "the man on horseback" to ride into the White House in 1880, as he did in 1872, and in 1868. That Grant is a great hero in the North nobody who reads the newspapers or is at all cognizant of the drift of public opinion there can deny. His name is linked with all the great achievements of the Republican party, and is indeed a tower of strength with the million.

The mounted men, the property owners of the North, want Grant for President. Communistic uprisings have frightened them. Capital, ever timid, is duly so, since twenty million dollars worth of property was swept away by the hand of lawlessness in one wild, night of blood and flame last July. Capitalists want at Washington a strong, centralized government, headed by a man of iron will, whom mobs will fear, and respect. The opinion was freely expressed last year that if Grant had been President the riots would not have occurred. Whether there is any just foundation for such an opinion or not, the rich men, the bondholders, who wield the golden sceptres of corporation power, believed it, and that was enough to make them wish for the Butcher who marched his conquering legions to Appomattox Court House. It is in the power of the moneyed men of the North to nominate Grant; and we believe they mean to do it.

The army would favor his election. All the horde of rascals who flourished on public plunder in the hey-day of Republican ascendancy, under Grant's mal-administration, would rejoice at the prospect of his return to the White House. Those Northern people who are jealous of Southern ascendancy in Congress would cordially support the nomination. With all this combination of political, social, financial and sectional elements, militating in his favor, we regard his nomination in 1880 about as certain a thing as anything in the future can be.

What shall we of the South do? Prepare to give the nominee of the Democratic party in that year the solid strength of our whole section. With the help of a few Northern States we can win. North Carolina must be ready to do her part in saving the country from the curse of a Grant administration. It is not too early now to begin. It is never too soon to lay the foundations for victory. The Democratic party of North Carolina must stand to its colors, compact, steady, thoroughly organized. To do this, the people, as they value their salvation from Grant's rule, must put their feet square down on independent candidates who threaten to impair our strength, and repudiate from the start all bolters and disorganizers. Those political aspirants who would push their own selfish schemes of advancement at the expense of our party are false friends and should not be tolerated. Above all individuals, all ambitious, all aspirational and all combinations, rises the preservation of the Conservative-Democratic party in its strength and its purity. The result of the contest in 1880 may possibly turn on North Carolina's vote. Let us make ready now to cast it for the Democratic nominee.

Arrested.

A deputy sheriff on yesterday went down in Johnston county and brought up an instant capias, one J. C. Parrish, white, who stands charged with several larceny cases. The prisoner appears to be somewhat of a desperado on a small scale, since many people in the section of this county where he resides fear him greatly. However he is now safely quartered in our jail.

Magistrate's Court.

Before Justice W. D. Haywood. The case of Willis Trice, colored, charged with an assault upon Mr. Jas. E. Underwood, was tried yesterday afternoon. The evidence showed that the attack was made upon Underwood upon his return, while the latter was walking along Fayetteville street, at night. The blow was given with a stick. The defendant was bound over to appear at the next term of our Criminal Court, in a bond of $100.

The picnic of the Sabbath School of the First Presbyterian Church is to be given on Friday next, at the farm of Col. Faison on the Raleigh & Gaston Railway, the city. The festivals and amusements, both indoor and outdoor, of this church, are always so admirably managed, that all the excursionists may look forward to a most pleasurable trip.

Ap to Confuse.

A postal route agent furnishes us the following names of offices in this State, which at first are apt to give trouble and cause mistakes: Winton, Hertford county; Wilson, Wilson; Winston Forsythe; Witton, Granville; Kersherville, Forsyth; Keenerville, Mitchell; Kenansville, Duplin. So many errors are made by mailers of letters, that it is perhaps a good idea to call attention to the above nearly similar names, and thus perhaps prevent mistakes.

As a place where the best of good bargains may be made by both farmers and city people, we cordially recommend the establishment of Mr. W. A. Myatt, at Marion street. In the store may be found all the various things requisite and necessary in the way of farm supplies and groceries of all kinds.
